ANNEX

Questionnaire regarding asylum for nationals of other Member States

At its meeting on 10 and 11 December 1993, the European Council considered it necessary for there to be close co-operation based on mutual confidence between Member States on asylum matters. In this connection it asks for consideration to be given to the conclusions to be drawn in each Member State as regards nationals of other Member States.

With that in view and in order to clarify their situation, Member States are asked to reply to the following questions:

1. What laws, regulations or administrative provisions are applicable in your State to applications for asylum submitted by Member State nationals, in accordance with the provisions of the Geneva Convention? Do you have a special arrangement?

2. Does your national laws, regulations or administrative practice provide for an accelerated or simplified procedure for these applications?

   If so, state the principles applicable (manifestly unfounded application or other concept?), the circumstances in which it is applicable and the rules of procedure applicable (time limits for examination, appeal, etc.).

3. Where appropriate, state any other information you consider useful for your reply to the European Council's request.
